While splitting wood Tuesday, Rev. J. H. B. Smith met with what came very near being a serious accident. As he had raised the ax to deal a blow it caught on a clothesline overhead and glanced off and struck him on the head, near his temple. Fortunately the blow did not inflict a fatal wound, but it is miraculous that it didn't.—Wadena Pioneer.

JAIL DELIVERY PREVENTED.
Sheriff Spalding Very Cleverly Catches the Prisoners as They Were About to Depart.

What came very near being a jail delivery occurred last evening. Sheriff Spalding has confined in the county jail seven prisoners, and among them are some tough customers. For some time he had been apprehensive that an attempt would be made by them to gain their liberty before the term of court opened, which convenes Nov. 16th, and he has kept a close watch of them. Last night about 1 o'clock he became suspicious that something was wrong and he arose, going to the door that leads into the jail and listened, but the only noise he could hear was that of the water running from the faucet inside.

Knowing from that fact that there was something up he tried to turn the electric lights on but they would not work and he lighted a lamp, unlocked the door and stepped inside with a gun in his hand. The first glance showed him that the seven men were out of the cage, and he immediately leveled his gun on them and told them in plain English that the first man to make a move would be shot down. His wife, who had locked the door behind him, summoned W. E. Seelye, who was stopping at Mr. Nevers' across the street from the jail, and when he arrived the men were locked up in one of the cells inside the cage. It was found that a piece of the steel floor, 10x13 inches, and which is 3-16ths of an inch thick, had been out of the cage, and the men had dug a tunnel to the outer wall, where work had already been commenced to effect an opening, and in an hour more the prisoners would have all been outside and at liberty. The instruments used were two case knives, which had been fashioned into saws, and it must have taken some time to have accomplished the work. In the nine years Sheriff Spalding has held his position he has never lost a man, and he feels very much pleased to think that he found out what was going on before it was too late to prevent the escape, and it was certainly a very clever piece of work on his part, and one which deserves credit. The names of the prisoners connected with the job are: Dave Delaney, assault; Frank Ambarger, forgery; Martin Johnson, forgery; Joe Gardin, larceny; H. M. Delaney, larceny; Chas. Shiner, larceny; James Fisk, burglary.

JONES GIVES UP
Democratic Chairman Concedes the Election of Candidate McKinley.

Confident the Gold Standard is Wrong and Will Continue the Fight.
Populist Chairman Washburn Also Makes a Similar Concession.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Chairman Jones has issued the following statement: "The result of the presidential election is apparently no longer in doubt. It has been one of the closest contests that the people have been called on to determine in recent years. We have claimed the election on our advice from states that were admittedly in doubt, in which we knew there had been many frauds and from which there were evidences of tampering with the returns. It seems now to be apparent that Mr. Bryan, after making the most brilliant campaign in the history of our country and having carried most of the states claimed to be doubtful, has not carried enough.

In the electoral college, Bryan electors have been chosen from all of the states south of the Potomac and Ohio except West Virginia, and all those west of the Missouri except California and Oregon. He has 100 electoral votes, and this number may be increased by final returns from states yet in question. He has not obtained enough votes to carry the electoral college. Thus this remarkable campaign closes with the election of William McKinley. The result was brought about by every kind of coercion and intimidation on the part of the money power, including threats of lookouts and discharges and impending starvation; by the employment of by far the largest campaign fund ever used in this country, and by the domination of a large portion of the American press. The president-elect and his party are Under Fledge to the American People to continue the gold standard, and by its operation to restore prosperity to this country. As chief executive, Mr. McKinley will have the cordial support of the millions of patriotic Americans who have cast their votes for William Jennings Bryan. They bow to the majority of the states, and abide by the result with none of the mutterings that would have come from the money power, had it been unsuccessful. They are confident the gold standard cannot give the promised prosperity, but will gladly welcome it if it comes. They will continue the great struggle for the uplifting of humanity, and the maintenance of the dignity of our country in the establishment of an American monetary system."

WASHBURN IN LINE.
The Populist Chairman Concedes the Election of McKinley.
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Chairman Washburn of the Populist national committee has conceded the election of McKinley. "The returns point to McKinley's election," said Mr. Washburn. "With the states where the Missouri and south of the Ohio we had 909 electoral votes, not including Maryland or Delaware. We must hold all of them to carry the states of Kansas or Michigan in order to win. If we lose California or West Virginia or any other state it renders it necessary to carry both Indiana and Michigan, which at this time does not seem probable."

DIVIDED THE HONORS.
North Carolina Chooses Bryan Electors and Republican State Officers.
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 6.—The presidential ticket in this state appears to have been elected by Bryan by a majority of from 5,000 to 15,000. The returns from counties now in show a close vote, with the Bryan electors leading by an apparently small majority. Russell, Rep., is elected governor by a not less than 12,000 majority. The other Republican-Populist fusion state officers are elected by 40,000, except lieutenant governor, who has a reduced figure.

Franklin Concedes the House.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Chairman Franklin of the Democratic congressional committee, conceded that the Republicans would have a working majority in the house, but said they would not be able to control the senate. He asserted that the silver men will control the senate.

The New Hampshire Plurality.
